Carbures will provide four test and assembly lines for dual piston and piston calipers in vehicles. The lines will be formed by a set of autonomous and self-supporting stations, with manual loading and unloading, that form a high-volume production layout. The different stations include pressing technology, artificial vision for inspection and quality control, automatic screw-in, lubrication, pick-and-place insertion, high and low pressure testing and laser marking for production traceability.

The four lines will be installed in Mexico, thus consolidating the existing relationship with the customer.
